I am proud Save the Children has its headquarters in the Fourth Congressional District, in Westport, Connecticut, and applaud them for their accomplishments over the last 75 years. I also appreciate the leadership of Charlie MacCormack and look forward to witnessing the future lasting, positive changes Save the Children will make in the lives of children. I hope my colleagues will join me in recognizing and supporting this fine organization and their noteworthy mission.

HONORING THE MEMORY OF
DONALD CRUMPTON MOSLEY, SR.

HON. JO BONNER

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 7, 2007

Mr. BONNER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Donald Crumpton Mosley, Sr., former dean of the business college of the University of South Alabama. A consummate educator who brought out the best in his students and colleagues, Dr. Mosley devoted his life to education.

Don Mosley spent 10 years at the University of South Alabama as its business college's second dean, achieving accreditation from the Association of Advance Collegiate Schools of Business before the school was even 10 years old. He left the school in 1982 to pursue teaching and consulting opportunities and returned in 1999 as the Emeritus Professor of Management. The University of South Alabama's National Alumni Association honored Dean Mosley as an outstanding professor, a sentiment echoed by his former students.

Dean Mosley brought the Alabama Banking School to the University of South Alabama, establishing a week-long program that brings together banking officials from across the state. In addition to serving as dean of the USA business school, Don served as dean of Leadership Alabama and Leadership Mississippi.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in remembering a dedicated community member and friend to many throughout south Alabama. Don Mosley will be deeply missed by those who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Susan Young Mosley of Mobile; his son, Donald C. Mosley of Mobile; his brother, Joe Thomas Mosley of Starkville; and two granddaughters. He will be remembered in the thoughts and prayers of all those whose lives he touched and whose minds he lit with the spark of learning.

RECOGNITION OF THE 35TH ANNUAL ST. JOSAPHAT'S UKRAINIAN FESTIVAL

HON. JAMES T. WALSH

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 7, 2007

Mr. WALSH of New York. Madam Speaker, for the past 35 years, local parishioners from St. Josaphat's Ukrainian Catholic Church have been gathering to celebrate their heritage during the annual Ukrainian Festival in Irondequoit, NY.

Starting as a small event for the church congregation, over the years the festival has grown into an annual tradition. This year, August 16, 2007, marked the starting of the festival's 35th year. Such a milestone is a testament to the strong Ukrainian heritage throughout Irondequoit and Greater Rochester.

The festival is known for its traditional Ukrainian food, music and dancing. The 35th Ukrainian Festival will feature singing groups from Ukraine, local dancers as well as musical performances on the Bandura, a traditional string instrument. The festival includes rides and activities for kids and adults along with a diverse display of Ukrainian crafts, clothing, music and other collectibles such as pysanky. It's the premier Ukrainian Arts and Crafts Festival of the northeast. This year, organizers made more than 44,000 pyrohy and 20,000 holubsti—all homemade from one recipe by the parishioners.

The overwhelming success of the Ukrainian Festival has made it an institution in the Rochester area. Undoubtedly, the next 35 years will see even more success.

STATEMENT ON REPORTER AND ACTIVIST BOB JOHNSON

HON. TOM UDALL

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 7, 2007

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Madam Speaker, if Bob Johnson had only one career, he would still be worthy of our admiration. If he had been only a hard working and talented reporter, a reporter who was loved by his co-workers and revered by the many he mentored, he would deserve our respect. Had he been only a crusader for open government, a tireless advocate for freedom of the press and the people, he would deserve our appreciation. But Bob Johnson was all of these things: A no-nonsense former marine who kept people informed about their government and changed government to make it more responsive to the people.

Bob Johnson wrote the Associated Press' first bulletin on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. His coverage of that tragedy shaped the response of a mourning nation and quelled public panic with prompt information. As an editor, Johnson taught young reporters the ins and outs of the newspaper business. Those who worked with him remember a ball of energy who was never too busy to pass along a hard-learned lesson or counsel a colleague in need. He covered everything from the Apollo space flights to the taking of hostages at the 1972 Munich Olympics with the same diligence, precision and enthusiasm.

In his "retirement," Johnson founded and ran the New Mexico Foundation for Open Government. With a reporter's instinct for bringing public scrutiny to private places, Johnson has helped file more than 70 successful complaints under the Open Meetings Act. The organization he founded has helped the New Mexico Legislature craft laws to protect freedom of information and teach young people about their First Amendment rights. By educating and empowering citizens around the state, the Foundation for Open Government has helped put government transparency on the public agenda in New Mexico. Thanks to Johnson, we know more about the decisions that affect our lives.

Bob Johnson's life will always remind us that a commitment to truth is powerful. For his more than 60 years of dedicated work in the public interest, I wish to honor Robert H. Johnson.

RECOGNITION OF ADMIRAL
TIMOTHY J. KEATING

HON. DOUG LAMBORN

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 7, 2007

Mr. LAMBORN. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of ADM Timothy J. Keating. I would like to thank ADM Keating for his recent service as Commander of North American Aerospace Defense Command and United States Northern Command, from November 5, 2004 until March 19, 2007, and congratulate him on becoming the Commander of the U.S. Pacific Command, at Camp H.M. Smith in Hawaii.

ADM Keating, who graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1971, completed his flight training in 1973 and has gone on to amass over 5,000 flight hours. From 1982 to 1984 he was the Administrative Officer, Operations Officer and Maintenance Officer with the VA-94, during which time he deployed twice to the western Pacific. In 1987 ADM Keating commanded VFA-87 and deployed to the North Atlantic and the Mediterranean aboard USS Theodore Roosevelt. Following this assignment, ADM Keating served at the Naval Military Personnel Command in Washington, DC as Head of the Aviation Junior Officer Assignments Branch. In 1991 he became Deputy Commander, Carrier Air Wing Seventeen where he participated in combat operations supporting Operation Desert Storm.

In addition to serving as Chief of Naval Operations Fellow with the Strategic Studies Group, and at the Joint Task Force Southwest Asia in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, ADM Keating has also been Deputy Commander and Commander of Carrier Air Wing Nine aboard USS Nimitz in the Arabian Gulf, Commander of the Naval Strike Warfare Center in Fallon, Nevada, and Director of the Aviation Officer Distribution Division in the Naval Military Personnel Command. In 1998 he became Commander of Carrier Group Five in Yokosuka, Japan and, in 2000, Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Plans, Policy and Operations at OPNAV. Prior to Commanding NORAD and USNORTHCOM, ADM Keating was the Commander of U.S. Naval Forces Central Command and U.S. Fifth Fleet, as well as Director of the Joint Staff.
